

Instructor: ..... Date: .....

Learner: ..... Regional Branch: .....

Program: ..... Center: .....

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's visit Antarctica. You'd better pack some warm clothes!

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What is your favorite season?
- Have you ever been to an extremely cold place?
- Would you rather go on holiday in the summer or in the winter?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about important facts on a place of interest.
- I can express preference when talking about a place of interest.
- I give recommendations about what to do when visiting a place of interest.

Let's Explore!

Pack a parka*! We're going to Antarctica!

* A "parka" is a warm coat used in very cold conditions.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

If you love the winter and you enjoy untouched nature, you might want to envisage a trip to Antarctica. Antarctica is considered a cold desert because it only receives about 6 inches of snowfall a year. The amount of water in the ice in Antarctica is equal to almost 90% of the world's fresh water supply.

If you are thinking of visiting the South Pole, you ought to prepare yourself. The temperature can get as low as -103 degrees Fahrenheit (-75 degrees Celsius)! Believe it or not, that's not even the coldest temperature recorded in Antarctica!

If you'd rather enjoy Antarctica under less punishing conditions, you'd better join the thousands of tourists who travel to Antarctica during the summer. In the warmer temperatures, you can see many different specimens of wildlife. The scenery is so pristine and magnificent that it makes the whole trip worthwhile.

Let's Practice!

Here are a few things to remember before you pack your suitcase.

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentences.

1. you / love / the / Antarctica / envisage / If / might / . / a / you / to / trip / winter, / want / to
_____
2. cold / for / the / visiting / thinking / Pole, / of / you / harsh / South / to / If / the / ought / . / are / prepare / you
_____
3. the / of / to / you'd / you / . / If / like / travel / join / better / temperatures, / tourists / the /
thousands / warmer / who / during / summer
_____

Let's Practice!

Let's learn some amazing facts about Antarctica!

Instructions: Select all the correct answers.

1. What are the sentences related to weather?
  - a) The temperature can get as low as -103 degrees Fahrenheit!
  - b) Antarctica is considered a cold desert because it only receives about 6 inches of snowfall a year.
  - c) The scenery is so pristine and magnificent that it makes the whole trip worthwhile.
  - d) The amount of water in the ice in Antarctica is equal to almost 90% of the world's fresh water supply.
  - e) Believe it or not, that's not even the coldest temperature recorded in Antarctica!
  - f) In the warmer temperatures, you can see many different specimens of wildlife.

Extension Activity

Find the perfect trip for your customers!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a dialogue (12-14 lines) with a partner.
- Choose between two roles:
  - a travel agent, giving suggestions and offering solutions about where to go
  - a tourist, asking questions and expressing preferences about where they want to go
- Think of 4 different places. Make suggestions and express preferences about each place.
- Change roles with your partner.
- Read your dialogue aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about natural wonders.

☐ ☐

I express preferences.

☐ ☐

I give advice.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to envisage (verb): to imagine the possibility of a future event
Example: You might want to envisage a trip to Antarctica.
- fresh water (noun): water that can be used for drinking or cooking
e.g. The ice in Antarctica contains 90% of the world's fresh water supply.
- to record (verb): to write down for further reference
e.g. Scientists have recorded temperatures below -75 degrees Celsius.
- punishing (adjective): severe; physically and mentally demanding e.g. In the winter, the weather is punishing in Antarctica.
- condition (noun): the state and quality of the weather
Example: You should go in the summer if you want to see avoid the winter's punishing conditions.
- specimen (noun): an individual example of a species
e.g. In the summer you can see many specimens of wildlife.
- pristine (adjective): unspoiled; pure
e.g. The scenery is pristine and magnificent.

Learning Points

Had Better, Ought To, and Might Want To for What is Advisable

You use the modal ought to and might want to to give advice. You can also use had better to express a recommendation

You can use the contraction 'd better when you speak.

Ought to is a strong request or advice.

Might want to is a suggestion.

Had better can be used as a strong recommendation, or warning.

You'd better pack warm clothes = I strongly recommend that you pack warm clothes, otherwise you will be cold.

Examples:

- If you love the winter and you enjoy untouched nature, you might want to envisage a trip to Antarctica.
- If you are thinking of visiting the South Pole, you ought to prepare for the harsh cold.
- You'd better join the thousands of tourists who travel to Antarctica during the summer.

Would Rather for What is Preferable

You use the expression would rather ... + verb to express a preference.

You can also use the contraction 'd rather ...

You use Would you rather ... ? to ask about someone's preferences.

Ought to is a strong request or advice.

Might want to is a suggestion.

Had better can be used as a strong recommendation, or warning.

You'd better pack warm clothes = I strongly recommend that you pack warm clothes, otherwise you will be cold.

Examples:

- I would rather go to Antarctica in the summer than in the winter.
- I'd rather enjoy Antarctica under less punishing conditions.

