Let's Start!

Long nights, warm weather, jazz on the streets: It's July in Montreal!

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like jazz? Have you ever been at a jazz concert?
- What do you know of Montreal, Canada?
- Have you heard of the Montreal Jazz Festival?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about celebrations.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.
- I can talk about general and specific quantities.

Let's Explore!

Snap your fingers* to the beat! It's time for the Montreal Jazz Festival!

* You "snap your fingers" when you produce a clicking sound between your thumb and third finger.

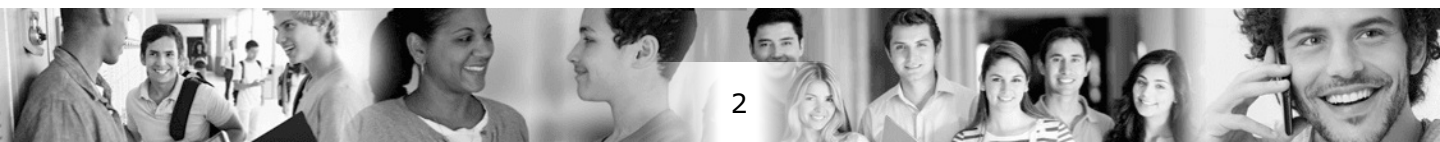

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

I've always loved jazz: the musicianship between the performers is mesmerizing! So, I decided to immerse myself in the world's biggest jazz celebration, the Festival de Jazz de Montreal. It was early July, and many of the downtown streets were closed off to traffic. The International Jazz Festival was about to begin. The whole city was tuning to the sound of saxophones and double basses.

Since the first official festival began in 1980, Montreal has become famous for turning into a haven for music lovers and tourists every July. The idea of the festival was to bring jazz artists from all over the world to perform in one place.

Every year, hundreds of musicians from dozens of countries perform in about 500 concerts. Many famous performers play in the city's most famous music halls. Some concerts can be very expensive! However, a lot of stages are set up along the streets for the many free concerts that the city subsidizes. Thousands of people just walk from one performance to another.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

The Present Perfect Tense vs. The Simple Past Tense

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a finished action or event that is connected to the present in some way.

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished action or event not necessarily connected to the present.

- You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experience.
- When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.
- I have learned English= I learned English in the past and now I can speak English.
- He has bought a painting= He bought the painting in the past and now he has a painting.

Look at the chart about how to form the Present Perfect tense:

We use have/has + the past participle of the verb in Present Perfect sentences.

	Past Tense	Past Participle	Example
love	loved	loved	I've always loved jazz.
become	became	become	Montreal has become famous ...

Examples:

- I've always loved jazz.
- Montreal has become famous for turning into a jazz haven every July.
