

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use important information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How was your week? Good or bad?
- What would you rather do next week?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about natural features, structures and celebrations.
- I can make suggestions and talk about what is preferable.
- I can ask for clarification about the characteristics of a thing.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa and Sally talk about assignments, cute saxophonists and all that jazz.

* "And all that jazz" means all those things, etc ...

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: How was your week, Vanessa? How busy was the restaurant?
- Vanessa: It hasn't stopped all week! A group of biologists came to celebrate the discovery of a new specimen of iguana in the Galapagos. They went on and on about their expedition to the volcanic islands!
- Sally: I just wrote an article about the Galapagos! How funny is that?
- Vanessa: Yeah, that's weird. I also had a group of musicians who were in town for the jazz festival. They came in after their show and the saxophonist played us a solo. He was ... mesmerizing.
- Sally: Tell me the truth, V. How cute was he?
- Vanessa: Very funny, Sally. I'd rather have customers like him than the rude clients I get all the time!
- Sally: I guess so. Hey! We should have a party soon, don't you think?
- Vanessa: I don't know ... I'd rather just have a quiet dinner with you guys.
- Sally: Come on! You ought to put more fun in your life!
- Vanessa: How big is this party going to be?
- Sally: Don't worry about that. You might want to invite that saxophonist though!

Let's Practice!

There was a lot to talk about in Vanessa's restaurant!

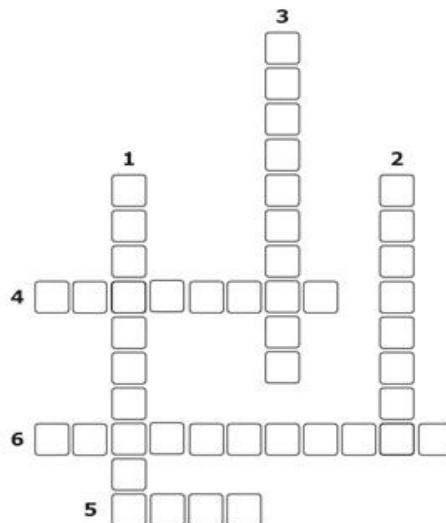

Instructions: Fill in the blanks to correctly complete each sentence. Then complete the crossword.

DOWN

1. A group of b_____ came to celebrate.
2. They discovered a new s_____ of iguana.
3. They kept on talking about their e_____.

ACROSS

4. They went on and on about v_____ islands.
5. A saxophonist played an amazing s_____.
6. He was m_____.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa is not in the mood* for a party.

*When you are not "in the mood" for something, you don't feel like doing it.

Instructions: Underline the incorrect words in each sentence. Then write the correct words in the blank spaces. Use capital letters when necessary.

1. She wood lather have a quiet dinner. _____
2. She owed to put more fun in her life! _____
3. She shooed had a party soon. _____
4. She mite wont to invite that saxophonist! _____

Extension Activity

Write a dialogue making plans for the weekend!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a dialogue (12-14 lines) about your plans for the weekend.
- With a partner, think of 5 or 6 things to do. Make sure you include:
 - activities and occasions
 - names of buildings and places
- Make suggestions and talk about preferences. Express your disagreement on the activities.
- Find one suggestion that you both agree on.
- Read your dialogue aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about preferences and make suggestions.

☐ ☐

I ask for clarification about things and people.

☐ ☐

I talk about celebrations, buildings and special occasions.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- biologist (noun): a scientist who focuses on living organisms
e.g. Darwin was the most influential biologist of his time.
- specimen (noun): an individual example of a species
e.g. In the summer you can see many specimens of wildlife.
- expedition (noun): a journey with a specific purpose, like exploration or research
e.g. How amazing would it be to take part in an expedition to this remote land.
- volcanic (adjective): relating to a volcano
e.g. The Galapagos are an archipelago of volcanic islands.
- solo (noun): a part in a musical piece where one instrument plays unaccompanied
e.g. This saxophone solo was amazing!
- mesmerizing (adjective): holding someone's attention very intensely e.g. Jazz performers are mesmerizing.

Learning Points

Would Rather for What Is Preferable

We use the expression would rather to ask for or express preference. We generally used its contracted form ('d rather), followed by the basic or infinitive form of the verb.

Examples:

- I'd rather have customers like him than the rude clients I get all the time!
- I'd rather just have a quiet dinner with you guys.

When you're comparing two things or actions, you use the expression than. When you're comparing with verbs, be consistent: don't change the form of the verb.

- I'd rather go to the Jazz festival than stay at home.
- We'd rather have a party with friends than have a quiet afternoon.

If you state preference in relation to another person's actions, that is, if you prefer someone to do something, you use the verb in the past form.

There is another subject for the second part of the sentence.

- I'd rather you came home for a party.
- We'd rather he played jazz.
- I'd rather they weren't regular customers.
- I'd rather the saxophonist attended the party.

Examples:

- Ann: We should have a party soon!
- Bob: I don't know ... I'd rather just have a quiet dinner.
- Ann: Come on! You ought to put more fun in your life!

Questions With How + Adjectives

You use How + adjective in a question if you want to know how someone or something is.

Examples:

- How funny is that?
- How cute was he?
- How big is this party going to be?

